

Graduate Students attending a PMSA Member University (UVic, UBC, SFU, UAlberta, UCalgary)

The majority of BMSC field courses are undergraduate level courses – if your BMSC field course is an undergraduate course, please consult the undergraduate registration information document. Please also ensure that you have permission from your program to take undergraduate courses.

Register at your home university for the course(s) for which you have been accepted.

Your university course registration numbers will be included with your acceptance message from BMSC. Specific information for each PMSA member university can be found below:

University of Victoria students:

You will need to login to UVic's online services to register. For more information about registration, see UVic's guide on graduate registration. If you have trouble registering (i.e. trouble with pre-requisites), contact the BMSC University Programs office.

University of British Columbia Vancouver students:

Before March 31st, login to the UBC Student Service Centre using Workday to pay your registration deposit. For more information about registration, see UBC-V's guide on how to register for courses as a graduate student. In early April, the Senior Biology Program Assistant will complete your registration for BMSC courses.

University of British Columbia Okanagan students:

Most courses at the BMSC are offered through UBC's Vancouver campus. Because of this, students coming to the BMSC from UBC-Okanagan will need to complete a cross-campus registration request to take BMSC courses. Before March 31st, login to the UBC Student Service Centre using Workday to pay your registration deposit. For more information about registration, see UBC-O's guide on how to register for courses as a graduate student. In early April, the Senior Biology Program Assistant at UBC Vancouver will complete your registration for BMSC courses.

Simon Fraser University students:

Visit the SFU Faculty of Graduate Studies webpage for enrollment information. You will need to login to the Student Information System using your SFU computing ID and password.

University of Calgary students:

Login to your myUofC account using your eID and password and follow the link to your online Student Centre. For more information about registering for courses at UC, see the instructions provided by the Faculty of Graduate Studies.

University of Alberta students:

Log into Bear Tracks using your CCID and navigate to Manage Classes to check your registration for BMSC courses. For more information about registration, see the Student Registration Experience Guide.
