

BMSC Student Code of Conduct Policy

The BMSC is committed to developing in students the knowledge, skills and values necessary to become leaders and good ocean citizens, both locally and globally.

The BMSC is committed to providing a respectful and productive learning environment and works closely with instructors, staff and students to promote professionalism, including personal responsibility, respect, honesty and integrity.

These values are expected from everyone while at the BMSC.

All members of our community have both the right to experience and the responsibility to help create such an environment.

As BMSC is a shared campus, codes of conduct from your home institution (or institution where you registered) also apply (UBC, UVic, SFU, UofA, and UCalgary) at the BMSC, especially in the event that disciplinary measures are required.

It is the responsibility of students to read and be aware of these codes of conduct policies as they were put in place to ensure we can all thrive at the BMSC.

Sean Rogers, PhD.

Director, Bamfield Marine Sciences Centre